THE CAMP FIRE FESTIVAL.

A Perfect Jam at the Tabernacle—Old Army Scenes Revived.

The tabernacle was hardly large enough to accommodate the throng of people that crowded within its spacious walls last evening to attend the camp fire festival given by energetic Decatur ladies under the auspices and for the benefit of Decatur Post No. 141, Grand Army of the Republic. As early as eight o'clock there was a perfect jam of people on the floor, and it was difficult to move about with comfort.

LIGHTING THE CAMP FIRE.

Goodman's cornet band escorted the grand army boys from headquarters to the tabernacle, where Dr. R. N. Davies addressed the old soldiers and people generally on the objects and benefits of the organization. At the conclusion of the address the officer of the day, Comrade Kepley "lit the camp fire," the flames flashing upward from a pumpkin saturated with fluid and water. Over the flames hung an iron kettle. The veterans to the number of 75 had ranged themselves on both sides of a long table on the north side of the room, and at the signal given by Commandant Lytle, the cups boys commenced rattling their tin cups preparatory to partaking of the old-fashioned army supper, which consisted of hard tack brought here from St. Louis, black coffee sweetened with brown sugar, and "sow belly" bacon. The curious in the crowd pressed forward to see what the old veterans were doing.

Meanwhile the people commenced promenading while the band played and the various supper and refreshment tables were liberally patronized.

"LA BUENA FORTUNA"—THE GOOD FORTUNE.
In the east end of the room was located a novelty in a Spanish gypsy tent in which were seated the Misses Mattie and Mary Trowbridge, attired in bright costumes decorated with playing cards. The Misses Adele Shellabarger and Allie Priest, who were also in the tent, were richly gipsy-like costumes were the soliciting commissionaires, and many a young lady and gentleman were persuaded to enter the charmed precincts of the fortune tellers and learn their fate at ten cents a look. The fancy work and flower tables on the outside of the fortune telling tent were presided over by the Misses Mattie Gyler, Marie Freeman, Jessie Fenton, Hattie Hardy, Mrs. H. W. Bartholomew, Mrs. Ada Peterson and Miss Katie Deakin, of New York.

FELL OFF A TRAIN.

Tragic Death of a Young Swede Found Beneath the St. Louis Bridge.
Last Evening.

While attending to his duties as watchman of the St. Louis bridge which crosses the Sangamon river southwest of the city, William Robinson last evening at about 4:30 o'clock, discovered the lifeless and mangled form of an unknown man lying in the tall weeds under the bridge, about 65 feet below the top of the same.
The attention of Albert Martin, who was passing at the time, was called to the object, and subsequently the coroner was notified of the discovery. The body was brought to the city, and this forenoon an inquest was held, Messrs. P. Per, A. J.
Thompson, Harvey Plotner, Allen Scott, J. R. Blain and Geo. Vording serving as jurors. The investigation resulted in learning that the man's name was Alvin Ossian Lundstram, who was born in May, 1890, and that he recently arrived in this country from Sweden. He had his passage with him, from which these facts were learned. It was also discovered that the deceased had left Chicago bound for Litchfield, and the verdict of the jury was to the effect that he had probably fallen off a Wabash train accidentally yesterday morning, and that the fall resulted in his death. The body was badly bruised and cut, showing that he had been struck by the wheels of the train and had also fallen against the timbers of the bridge.
Deceased was a well-built young man.
The body was buried in the Potter's field this afternoon.

THE RESOLUTIONS.
The following resolutions offered by the committee, Gen. C. W. Pavey, E. H.
Miner, W. W. Lowdermilk, Wm. Garner, David M. Berlin and John R. Campbell, were adopted:

WHEREAS, We, the ex-union prisoners of war of the western division of the National union, and Illinois State Association, have met for the purpose of building up a closer association, to strengthen the ties of fraternal friendship that should exist forever among those who fought and starved together; and to more thoroughly organize ourselves so as to mutually aid in effecting and urging our interests before the next congress of the United States, by which we may be able to benefit thousands of our comrades and fellow sufferers who are now fast failing on account of the exposure and intense suffering endured at the hands of our inhuman captors in southern prisons; therefore,

Resolved, First: That we heartily favor the organization of the state and county associations in every state and county in the Northwestern states; and that they be auxiliary to the National association of Hartford, Conn., and that we further favor unity of purpose and action in all National legislation affecting our interests.

Resolved, Second: That we will endorse any bill reported and agreed upon by the duly authorized committee of the National association.

It was ordered that a committee of three be appointed by the president to draw up a bill for the relief of the ex-prisoners of war, and that said bill be presented to the National committee for their approval.

On motion General Charles W. Pavey whenever it is held, as the representative

The secretary was instructed to forward a copy of the above resolutions to

THE EXPERIENCE MEETING.
After hearing Dr. Davies remarks at the tabernacle the ex-prisoners to the number of about 50 assembled at the court house, where a social reunion was held and experience speeches were made.

These recalled many familiar scenes connected with Andersonville, Libby Prison, and other wretched reek prisons into which thousands of Union prisoners were thrown during the war to suffer all manner of indignities and to starve. Short addresses were made by General Pavey, Captain Lowdermilk, Comrades Pike, J.
A. Miller, Young, Bishop, E. H. Miner, J.
M. Wright, Giger, R. G. Sollars, W.
Wilde, John Campbell, Capt. Anderson, Merritt and others.
